

IMAGE CAPTURE DEVICE LOADED WITH IMAGE METADATA

Abstract of the Disclosure

- 5 A method for associating metadata with captured images includes an image capture device receiving the metadata from an external source and capturing an image with the image capture device. The method continues with the image capture device associating the captured image with the metadata, wherein the metadata is received prior to capturing the image.